

Webinar

Register Today

Return to Office – a DRIC Three Part Webinar Series natural disasters social media

privacy financial disruption

information security

technology

Wednesdays July 22nd, 29th and August 5th

Mark Hoffman
Author | Speaker | MBCI, CBCP

Milena Maneva
MSc | AMBCI

Free to DRIC and Information Exchange Chapters members

Join us for a three-part webinar series that addresses the key considerations of building a Return-to-Office strategy.

We will discuss what challenges you can expect, employer liability, how to build a phased-in approach to returning to the office, monitoring, contact tracing, PPE, employee screening, social distancing in the office and much more!

Your questions will help make these presentations more relevant, so come prepared!

SPEAKERS: Mark Hoffman and Milena Maneva

Mark Hoffman | Author | Speaker | MBCI, CBCP

Mark is an independent senior crisis management and business continuity consultant. He is the founder and president of a boutique consulting firm that has been serving customers in North America, Europe, and the Caribbean for twenty years. Mark has successfully designed, deployed, and managed BCM and Crisis Management Programs for organizations in the financial, transportation, utility, insurance, risk management and real estate industries. Mark specializes in Program Development/Governance and Crisis/Cyber Management Planning. He is quick to build relationships and achieve results working collaboratively with business leaders and executives. Mark is a frequent contributor to blogs, podcasts, and webinars on the topic of crisis management, cyber response, and business continuity. Feel free to contact Mark to see how he can help your organization be well prepared: mhoffman@anesis.ca, on Twitter @mhoffman_cbcpc or search for Mark on LinkedIn.

Milena Maneva | MSc | AMBCI

Milena holds a master's degree in Risk Management with over ten years of risk management experience and is a certified as an Associate Member of the Business Continuity Institute (BCI) - she is currently working towards her MBCI application. Milena is active member and supporter of the Women in Resilience group in the UK. Raised in close proximity to a nuclear power plant, Milena became aware of the value of monthly drills as a child. Those early experiences shaped her into the industry leader she is today. She is a Business Continuity Management Lead for EMEA in a global financial services firm, looking after the business continuity and incident management for +40 offices, +6000 staff. She plays an influential role in the continuous improvement of her company's global business resilience strategy and operations. You can contact Milena via <https://linkedin.com/in/milenamaneva>

About DRI Canada - Train. Prepare. Recover.

Protecting YOUR Business is Important to Us.

DRI Canada is a non-profit organization that provides internationally recognized education and certification to business continuity, disaster recovery and emergency management professionals in Canada. These professionals empower Canadian organizations, communities and businesses to be resilient and better prepared for any emergency or disaster.

For many years, DRI CANADA (DRIC) and DRI International (DRII) have trained and certified professionals in business continuity management (BCM). Our members have helped hundreds of Canadian organizations to recover effectively from disruptive events. This training and certification has also launched and sustained thousands of successful and rewarding careers. While DRIC training and certification involves an investment of time, effort and money, organizations and individuals stand to profit in both the short- and long-term by capitalizing on its value. Today, thousands of Canadian organizations insist that their resources rely on DRIC high caliber training.

DRI Training and Certification are designed to meet the needs of public and private sector professionals in a variety of roles, including:

- Business Continuity
- Emergency Management
- Risk Management
- Disaster Response
- Crisis Management
- Resilience
- And More!

Interested in presenting a webinar?

Please contact Perry at:

perry@dri.ca

